BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 18 .- (Direct and official.)-The battle between the Allies and the German forces is still indecisive but sure signs indicate that the enemy's resistance is relaxing. An effort by the French to break through the German right wing collapsed without great effort on the part of the Germans.

The German center is gaining ground slowly but surely. On the right bank of the River Meuse the forces of the Allies from Verdun have been easily repulsed.

A remarkable scene followed the announcement that the Home Rule bill had passed. Will Crookes, the British labor leader, shouted, "God save Ireland." John Redmond, the Irish leader, replied in ringing tones, "God save England!"

Then Crookes began singing "God Save the King" and broke down with emotion in the midst of it. The crowded House galleries joined in the anthem until the sound was audible in the Palace yard.

President Sees No Early Peace

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18 .- President Wilson sees little chance of peace until definite overtures are made by one side or the other. The German ambassador said today that Germany will arm again to the teeth if an inch of her European or colonial soil is taken.
